Dear Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in joining Canonical as a Software Developer Intern or Junior Developer. I am a Computer Science student at Addis Ababa University, which is ranked among the top 10 universities in Africa. My current CGPA is 3.96. I have built a solid foundation in software development, algorithms, and web systems.

My academic background and project experiences have given me skills in both frontend and backend development. I am especially passionate about creating web applications that mix creativity with problem-solving. I enjoy using modern frameworks like React and Flutter to build dynamic, user-friendly interfaces. I also use Node.js and SQL Server for backend logic and managing data.

Recently, I developed TeamTalk, a real-time chat application using Java and sockets, and TutorLink, a digital tutoring system that connects tutors and students. These projects helped me strengthen my teamwork, debugging, and full-stack development skills.

I am eager to continue improving my skills and to contribute to innovative projects that focus on intelligence, efficiency, and user experience. I believe my enthusiasm for technology and my commitment to learning make me a valuable addition to your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the chance to contribute and grow within Canonical.

Warm regards,

Yadelew Zemene Abay
